She went on to attend the University of Minnesota, receiving her Masters of Fine Arts from U of M in 1980. In 1980, Janet won the regional competition for both costume and scenery design at the American College Theater Festival. Janet has worked her trade in a variety of locations including private business, on and off Broadway, Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade, Las Vegas, Ringling Bros. Her resume lists specialties such as jewelry construction, millinery, soft sculpture, masks, silkscreening, cutting and draping, dyeing and painting, soldering, and operating power tools. The spark that ignited this career for Janet was struck at OFHS by the theatre arts department. Janet worked mostly on the technical aspects of the plays. She did act in one however. At UW-GB, she worked doing costumes and scenery for a number of productions. Janet is recognized for her contribution to the arts. Janet becomes the first female member of the OFHS Wall of Fame.*
